Mr. Pickard is an accomplished professional who brings a strong management background to Community Planning & Engineering's operations. As the President, he has the ultimate authority to commit resources and final responsibility for controlling costs, schedules, quality, safety, and other variables that influence the outcome of any project.

Although he has spent the last decade and half in the engineering community in Hawaii, Mr. Pickard possesses a wealth of national and international working experience. Over the span of his career he has managed projects as complex and innovative as the award winning marina and lagoons at Ko Olina, and as challenging as the build-out of "smart office space" for international securities trading at Exchange Square in Hong Kong.

His most recent challenge has been assisting the Department of Hawaiian Home Lands in achieving Governor Lingle's goal of providing 6,000 residential lots for Native Hawaiians over the next 5 years – nearly equaling the 7,200 leases awarded by the agency since it was created 83 years ago.

In December 2004, he was one of five community leaders appointed by Mayor Hannemann to lead his Transition Team. Mr. Pickard's primary duty was to chair the search committees for the Directors of the two departments with the greatest impact on development projects -- the Department of Planning & Permitting and the Department of Design & Construction.
